

FAMILIES AT THE CENTER OF A Connected COMMUNITY

7TH INSTALLMENT

USING MONEY AS A TOOL FOR CONNECTION

Money can't buy friendship, but the way we use our money can certainly help create connections.

One of the most interesting aspects of Starfire's Family Project process is that families get a budget to spend creatively. Even more important than what that money is spent on, is how it's spent.

For the next session, we'll look at how budgets can be used to create connections and make doing a Family Project easy, fun, and an investment in future relationships
